The Coca-Cola Alliance
gisela.neunhoeffer@iuf.org
The Coca-Cola Alliance has been supporting SIPTU in a strike against casualisation since late August through publications and solidarity messages (see http://www.iuf.org/ccww).

The issue of casualisation has also been key in the discussions of the Canadian Soft Drinks Workers Council meeting uniting both Pepsi and Coca-Cola workers at its recent meeting, attended by the Coca-Cola Alliance coordinator. Supporting organising drives in Coca-Cola operations is becoming a second main issue for the Alliances, and preparatory work for such initiatives is under way in a number of countries. It was the focus of a regional Coca-Cola workers seminar in Kladovo, Serbia, in August.

Compass
lisa.eldret@iuf.org
In Algeria we are investigating freedom of association violations by Compass Group, which operates as Eurest in Algeria. A number of workers have been dismissed and suspended in the last three years after forming a union to improve their working conditions. The Compass Group subsidiary employs 1,900 workers in Algeria. As elsewhere in the world, they are amongst the worst paid and the least considered. The average wage is 18,000 dinars per month (approximately 185 €) Shifts last 6 weeks with no day off. Workers are forced to live in substandard accommodation whilst working at remote sites. All attempts to raise concerns about this and other issues have been dismissed by the company. Despite the ITUC highlighting the plight of these workers in their 2008 Annual survey of violations of trade union rights the company has failed to act, choosing instead to harass and intimidate union activists through court actions and dismissal.

Danone
patrick.dalban-moreynas@iuf.org
Monitoring the implementation of IUF/Danone agreements. This has included recent visits to Danone facilities in Spain in November 2008, in Czech Republic in February 2009, in the United States in April 2009, in Poland in April 2009, in Germany in May 2009 and in Russia in September 2009. The Danone facilities in Argentina are to be visited at the end of October.

In all cases the IUF representative met the union leaders and members and discussed the nature and level industrial relations. The team formed by the IUF and the Danone global HR people presented the IUF/Danone agreements and discussed their degree of implementation in the various facilities.

Advising on framing of future IUF/Danone agreements in new areas (e.g. precarious work and health and safety).

Organise (together with our affiliate UNIA) events during the week of October 12-16, when the president of the Nestlé-Panjang union will be in Geneva to attend an ILO symposium on collective bargaining.

Nestlé
jacqueline.baroncini@iuf.org
At the Nestlé EWC meeting in June 2009, union delegates criticised management, strongly contesting the company's record on health and safety in the workplace and the statistics it uses. The pressure to meet "zero accident" targets means that management discourages transparent reporting, as such targets are linked to management bonuses. The focus on "behaviour-based safety" puts the onus on workers to avoid accidents rather than on the company to provide a safe workplace.
Another contentious issue is the outsourcing of payroll functions, which Nestlé has implemented in 8 European countries. The union delegates unanimously supported the demand that payroll be returned to the countries. An ad-hoc EWC meeting took place in August.

Unilever
kirill.buketov@iuf.org
